

The Redleaf mounting frame for GoPro Hero Session allows for maximum reduction of the distance between the camera and the mount. Allows you to use a camera with GoPro mounts without the waterproof case. By reducing the distance of GoPro Hero Session from the mounting point, it is possible to use the camera where standard mountings are not applicable due to lack of space. The frame is equipped with a latch that allows you to quickly and easily mount and disassemble the camera. This feature will be appreciated by filming dynamically changing scenes requiring adaptation to the current course of action. The Redleaf mounting frame allows you to use the GoPro Hero Session camera with all GoPro mounts without the waterproof case. Thanks to this, the quality of recorded sound and image is improved.
